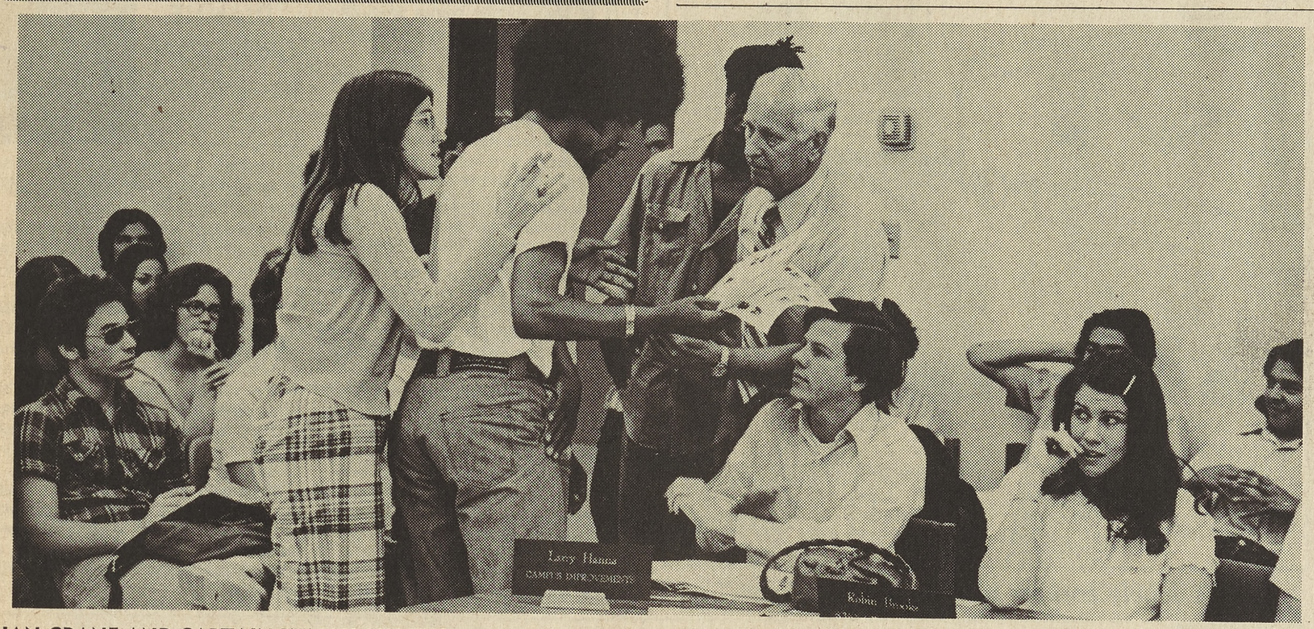
SUMMER SCHEDULE INSIDE



JAN CRANE AND CAPTAIN WALLY GUDZUS restrain Albert Glass in a heated confrontation with Larry Hanna at Tuesday's A.S. Council meeting. Valley's chief of campus security was reportedly shoved against a wall by Glass after Gudzus removed him from the meeting. The disturbance occurred during a discussion on raising funds for a student who was reportedly injured at last week's meeting.

Elections To Start Monday; 'Rep' Bill Qualifies for Vote

By LEW SNOW
City Editor

Thirty-eight candidates will be vying for 16 offices starting Monday as elections for the fall semester's A.S. Council get under way.

One candidate, Marty Dickman (Elections), almost didn't make it. She arrived after Friday's candidates' meeting was held — grounds for being declared "ineligible." The Election Committee, though, ruled 3-1, Monday, to allow Mrs. Dickman to run due to "extenuating circumstances."

The election will feature six hopefuls running for A.S. president and one slate. Larry Hanna, John Jolly, Jeff Magidson, Jo Anne Orijel, Chris Russell, and Sandford Scharf will all be wooing votes for the top post to be vacated by out-going President Jennifer Goddard.

"U.S., United Students for Responsive Government," a campus group, is sponsoring a slate for all the 16 A.S. posts, including the top three: president (Ms. Orijel), vice president (Eric Thompson), treasurer (Mitchell Harmatz).

Qualifying for the ballot is the controversial "Equal Representation Amendment," which would create the offices of commissioner of Black and Chicano ethnic studies. It gathered 873 signatures to get on the ballot, 326 more than the 547 necessary.

Another petition, this one to allow all students to vote in A.S. elections, instead of paid I.D. card holders, fell 37 names short of being included in next week's ballot.

Last semester, a slate known as the "Collective" was offered to the electorate, with its vice presidential (Jan Crane) and treasurer (Marshall Pepperman) gaining elective office. Tony Allen and Paul Berger were the other two nominees on the slate.

This semester, however, Allen is running the campaign for the "United Students for Responsive Government" slate.

Four students are virtually assured of their council seats as they are running unopposed.

Manuel Suarez, Bobbe McGhie, Ben Cheng, and Elaine Eaddy, all must get a majority of "yes" votes to occupy the offices of AMS president, AWS president, commissioner of men's athletics, and records, respectively.

Ms. Eaddy was running against Randy Sheriff, but he pulled out of the race on Monday and will not appear on the ballot.

10 May Be Elected

Other than the race for A.S. president, only five other offices offer any combination of three or more choices. Theoretically, that means 10 or more A.S. offices could be filled in the general election when the ballots are counted next Thursday.

Polls will be open this Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and from 6 to 9 p.m.; next Thursday, polls will be open from 9 a.m. to noon.

Booths will be located north of the Life Science Building (near the north tennis courts), at Monarch Square (flagpole area), and near the arcade satellite cafeteria (in front of the Behavioral Sciences Building).

All the voting will be done on computer cards, which will be machine counted. Results should be known by 2:30 p.m. next Thursday.

Guarantees Fair Vote

Bruno Cicotti, coordinator of student activities, told the assembly of candidates last Friday that there would be no charges of "fraud" in this election, as there were last semester.

Annoyed by such insinuations by a campaign manager in the audience, Cicotti angrily stated, "I guarantee nothing's going to happen.

"I detest all this petty baloney. If I hear of anyone who interferes . . . in this or any election I'm associated with, I'll take the steps necessary to stop it."

Most experts prophesize a record turnout. Fanned by the "Equal Representation" controversy, a number of student government officials and candidates have predicted that over 2,000 will take to the polls. The record is just over 1,800, set five years ago.

Disturbances Jostle Council; Officer Shoved, Threatened

By GARY NORTH
and JOHN REID

Two students were ordered to leave Tuesday's Student Council meeting and the campus after at least one of them, Albert Glass, swiftly moved toward Larry Hanna and shouting obscenities, raised fears of violence in the room.

As Glass leaned over Hanna, BSU spokesman Alonzo Watkins stepped between the two caustic foes, attempting to quiet Glass and protect Hanna. Glass and Hanna are admitted bitter enemies over the ongoing minority representation amendment.

In a 7 to 7 vote Tuesday, A.S. Council refused to endorse the minorities representation amendment on the May ballot. The constitutional amendment to create a Commissioner of Black Ethnic Studies and Commissioner of Chicano Ethnic Studies needed a two-thirds vote to pass.

Glass was reacting to comments made by Hanna (who has incurred the wrath of Black and Brown students for his relentless parliamentary squabbles over the amendment) and council member Kresse Armour.

Miss Armour turned to the audience during a discussion on whether the council should approve a fund raiser for a woman who was wounded at a recent council meeting.

"I think this is the lowest thing you guys have pulled," Miss Armour shot at the crowd.

"You mean us 'niggers'?" Glass fired back. It was then that he became angry enough to cross over three rows of chairs and approach Hanna.

Ushered out of the room and into the Campus Center hallway downstairs, he reportedly shoved Wally Gudzus, chief of campus police, against the wall. Gudzus stated Glass yelled obscene language, and allegedly told the officer, "If you say another word I'll kill you." Watkins, a student, restrained Glass from further action. Gudzus said, "Disciplinary action is contemplated," and he may press charges of battery against Glass.

The person wounded at last week's meeting, Paula Canavaris, received a concussion and reportedly spent two days in San Fernando Hospital last week, after a council door slammed against her head.

(Although she is reportedly a student, the Admissions Office could not locate her registration at press time.)

Miss Canavaris, who stands a tiny 4 feet 11 inches, said it was still being considered whether to press charges against Hanna and/or the school.

Some reports from witnesses have Hanna intentionally shutting the door on Miss Canavaris. Other witnesses claim that Hanna did not know she was there and that he was only shutting the door to close out hallway noises.

A representative of the Indochina Peace Campaign, which Miss Canavaris is affiliated with, said that even though the council voted down the fund raiser, individual students are going to carry on a fund raiser of their own. The matter was passed to I.O.C.

Hanna, who voted against the proposed activity, told council with a wave of his hand, "First of all, I think this entire discussion is out of order," and added that he would "donate my own hat" to pass around to collect money.

Since Valley has no student insurance program (it was cut by the district), Hanna felt council should have no affiliation with the incident.

District Might Receive Aid From State

Administrators are optimistic that legislation providing a record $65 million in state aid for the state's 96 community colleges will be passed, following an announcement last week that Gov. Ronald Reagan would support such legislation.

The slice of that potential aid coming to the L.A. Community College District, according to Valley College President Dr. Robert Horton, is not known at this time.

Therefore, Dr. Horton said, its affect on Valley's five per cent ($480,000) budget slash — 2.5 per cent throughout the district—cannot yet be determined.

Dr. Leslie Koltai, chancellor of the 100,000 student district, indicated earlier this semester that he would reconsider the budget cuts should the district receive additional emergency state aid.

Proposed legislation would increase ADA (average daily attendance), by an average $107 for the coming school year, decreasing in years therefater.

Also to be increased is annual support per student, from $679 to $1,020.

In addition, $13 million of the total $65 million would go toward lowering property taxes in 50 of the state's 69 community college districts.

"If it passes in time to affect this year's budget," Dr. Horton said, "there may be some relief from the budget cut."

'Debate' Denied

A debate between Mayor Sam Yorty and Councilman Tom Bradley will not be held today as previously announced.

A representative from Faculty and Students for Bradley explained that there had been a misunderstanding between himself and representatives of the two candidates regarding the proposed debate.

Valley Star To Host High School Writers

Valley Star editors and Beta Phi Gamma chapter members here will be hosting Los Angeles high school journalists on Valley's campus today during the annual high school journalism day, a perennial recruitment drive for the Journalism Department.

The aspiring reporters and photojournalists will be served free potluck dinners after competing in on-the-spot writing contests. News and editorial writers will interview State Sen. Mervyn Dymally by telephone.

Feature writers will be questioning Chris Van Ness, rock reviewer of the L.A. Free Press, and sports reporters will query Hank Ives, publicity director of the Los Angeles Sharks hockey team.

After the interviews, the students will retire to typing rooms, where they will be given a maximum of one hour to compose and edit their stories.

Judging of these stories and articles that were published in the high school newspapers will be performed by professional editors and reporters from Los Angeles and outlying communities.

Following speaking presentations describing the college and the Journalism Department, students will be conducted from Monarch Hall to Valley Star's city room, where a rap session with the incoming and outgoing editors and reporters will take place.

"The purpose of journalism day is to get and keep high school students interested in the field of reporting and writing," remarked Gary North, chairman of the event.

"If we can get minority students into reporting, journalism will be that much more responsive," North said. "If we can train students to report, edit, photograph, and in general describe the passing scene with integrity and responsibility, the community will be that much more aware and that much stronger in the long-run."

Valleyites Cop Top B of A Scholarships

Three out of four top prizes in the Bank of America Community College Awards competition were won by Valley College students in the finals held May 2 at the Los Angeles Hilton Hotel.

The winners are Darrell Clarke, 19, in Science-Engineering; Jeannette Crane, 28, in Social Science-Humanities; and Dianne Grosskopf, 19, in Technical-Vocational. Each won a first place award of $2,000.

Patrina Katz, 32, who competed in the category of business, won a finalist's award of $250.

Competition was narrowed down to 10 finalists in each of the four categories, out of a possible 100,000 students who were eligible. Second place prizes of $1,000 and third place prizes of $500 were also awarded.

This was the first time any college has taken more than two of the first place awards.

Fall 1974 Semester May Start in August

Classes start in August? Semester break before Christmas? That'll be the case if the 1974-75 tentative College Calendar is approved by the Board of Trustees.

Plans have been drawn up for the new calendar, which would put Valley's class schedules in line with most of the four-year schools. College presidents are to comment upon the proposal by July so the Board will have input on the change.

According to the tentative calendar, the fall semester would start on Monday, Aug. 12. Technically, it would end on Dec. 27, but the last week would comprise part of the semester break, so realistically it would end on Dec. 20.

Spring 1974's semester would technically start on Dec. 30, but the first week would also be a part of the semester break, so it would actually start on Jan. 6, and would end on May 16.

Both Dr. Robert Horton, Valley College president, and Donald Brunet, dean of educational services, agreed on the advantages and disadvantages of such a schedule.

They said that having the semester break during Christmas vacation, and a coordination with many of the four-year school's schedules, would be tremendously advantageous. But, there are some hitches.

Many employees who have children in elementary and secondary schools would find that they had to go back to work a month before their children went back to school, leaving many child care problems. Also, the summer heat is at its best in August, leaving those students in un-air conditioned rooms with a sweltering problem.

Fortnight's Wait Final Obstacle For Yearbook

One picture is worth a thousand words!

This "old Chinese saying" could well be the motto for Crown magazine, the award-winning, pace-setting, soon-to-come-out yearbook of Valley College.

Crown doesn't look like a yearbook. Stressing photographs rather than words, it has a format reminiscent of Life and Look and is approximately the same size.

Although these late-and-lamented magazines are gone, Crown continues to scintillate. Its 112 pages are chockfull of fine quality photographs, collages, and informative yet entertaining articles on a variety of subjects including sports, theater arts, music, poetry, fashions, news, new classes, teachers, and administration.

"There is no strict theme this year," said Marcy Young, editor-in-chief of the magazine. "Crown describes the year at Valley in appropriate pictures and articles."

The magazine is scheduled to arrive the week of May 21. It is free to students with a paid I.D. or $3 without.

Jeff Magidson Files LAPD Crime Report

A crime report has been filed with the LAPD concerning "death threats" received by A.S. presidential contender Jeff Magidson.

Notes found by Magidson in his A.S. office mailbox threatening to "kill" him have been submitted to Wally Gudzus, campus chief of security.

Gudzus said that the notes violate Section 415 of the state Penal Code—violating the peace. The crayoned notes were of a "harrassment nature" and directly threatened Magidson's life, he said.

STAR EDITORIALS

Committee for Minorities Needed

Star realizes that in recent weeks the avenues of communication between various minority groups on campus and A.S. Council have become strained. Therefore, we propose the creation of an ad hoc committee comprised of two representatives from each of the substantial ethnic minority groups on campus, members of the student government, and various administrators including the Dean of Students and the Coordinator of Student Activities.

The committee would convene at least once monthly to discuss the peculiar problems affecting minority students on campus and afford the various representatives the opportunity to air their particular concerns and respond to the viewpoints of others in an informal, but orderly atmosphere.

Further, the committee would be empowered to enact or recommend whatever measures it deems fit to improve the conditions of minority students on campus such as opting for added Black and Chicano study courses, or perhaps urging the construction (or converting a ready facility) of an ethnic minority center.

Such a center could be stocked with a cultural library and staffed by volunteers operating a tutorial, job placement, and educational referral service, in addition to being a place where students could congregate.

In the event that the minority representation amendment is placed on the ballot in the upcoming elections through successful petitioning and eventually approved by the voters, or if minority group leaders secure council seats through normal election procedures, the committee would still serve a valuable function as an established channel of open communication should communication machinery on the council break down again.

Indeed, the committee would compliment minority representation on council, insuring that the pertinent issues affecting such students receive the proper attention.

Seeing that all the motley groups and interests on campus receive fair consideration is a difficult chore for council, at best. Star feels that the proposed committee comprised of an amalgam of minority representatives, student council members, and would be one positive measure to insure that the needs of one important focal group do not go unheeded.

Don't Leave Tennis in the Dark

Few sports have increased as much in popularity in recent years as the game of tennis. Probably the biggest single reason for its upsurge is that the sport has few limitations. It can be played by both men and women of all ages, is a great form of recreation and exercise, and is one of a select few sports that can be played 24 hours a day.

Unfortunately, though, throughout the San Fernando Valley, and specifically in the East Valley area, night tennis play is greatly limited because of a tremendous shortage of lighted courts. Since Valley College does not presently have lighted courts, nocturnal tennis enthusiasts' only alternatives are to test their patience waiting long intervals at North Hollywood park, where there are a few dimly lit courts, or make the long trek to Balboa park, where the facilities are better, but the wait is just as long.

Star recognizes this great need for additional lighted courts, and proposes that community service tax money be set aside for the construction of such lights. Since Valley College already possesses the best courts in the East Valley area, Star feels it is only logical that Valley would be the ideal place for the addition of lights.

For an estimated $65,000, Valley could have lights installed on all 11 courts located on main campus men's side. These lights could be used by students and people from the surrounding community, both for recreation and tournament matches.

To maintain these courts, Star recommends that an arbitrary fee of approximately 50 cents an hour be charged. In this way, the courts would be self-supportive, and the cost of electricity, servicing, and upkeep would be covered.

Star also suggests that in lieu of the coin-operated machines (which are often vandalized), an attendant be hired to supervise the courts. Players could, if desired, reserve the courts before they come so that they will not have to wait, and be guaranteed a certain court at a given time. The attendant would make sure that no group is on a court too long, and that everyone gets an opportunity to play, which is a problem with coin-operated courts.

Undeniably, the addition of lighted courts at Valley College would be of tremendous use to both students and the neighboring community. Star urges that steps be taken so that tennis enthusiasts will not be left out in the dark any longer.

AN AURA of authenticity surrounded the Renaissance Faire, held at the Paramount Ranch in Agoura. Medieval characters, such as Merlin the Wizard, added to the realness of the fair. Always a popular Southland event, the faire is now in its 11th year. See story on Page 7.

'Members' of A.S. Only Should Vote

DIANNE GROSSKOPF
Managing Editor

The A.S. Council handles over $300,000. They are elected to do so. Part of that money comes from the $10 fee that students pay to join the student body.

The rest comes from profit from the Student Store.

Without students paying that $10 fee, there would not be $300,000 over which council now rules. There would be no real purpose for council to exist.

If the A.S. fee is not paid by a student, he is not a member of the Associated Students. It's that simple.

Council is elected by the people whose money they represent: the members of the Associated Students. Why should students be able to vote for officers to rule over other people's money?

Some say requiring paid A.S. fees for participation in the election of A.S. officers is a form of poll tax. Not so. Before a person is allowed to vote in the United States, he must be a citizen of this country. Doesn't it make sense, then, that a student must be a "citizen" of the Associated Students before he is allowed to vote?

Most people were not asked to vote for the officers of many of the clubs on campus. They should not expect to be asked because they are not members of these clubs.

If a student is not a member of the Associated Students, how can he expect to be able to vote for A.S. officers?

It's not as if the $10 fee is a waste of money. The money funds many worthwhile campus activities and projects. Speakers are often brought to the campus and paid for by the Associated Students. Even security parking for members will be funded by the Associated Students next semester.

The money certainly goes to a good cause. It goes for the type of quality education Valley has to offer. And besides, $10 isn't all that steep of a price to pay for rich educational experiences, is it?

Ex-A.S. Vice President Rebutts Editorial, Assails Student Government as Defunct

Editor:

Yes, democratic process is vital, for it is the only fair process yet devised by man for governing himself. However, the existing student government is not democratic.

In one respect, it does APPEAR to be democratic in that Executive Council members are elected by the student body. But any further similarity to the democratic process ends here. Two of the 16 voting members of council are appointed. On the surface, they appear to be approved by the other council members; but, in reality, they are "railroaded" into office by the president. By not being elected, they have no responsibility to uphold the sacred trust of their voting power to the student body. Their sacred trust is only to the person who appointed them — the president. I ask you, is this democracy?

Another feature of the undemocratic nature of student government was demonstrated last Tuesday. The U.S. Constitution was designed in the interest of the majority and does not provide for any executive to veto a two-thirds majority decision dealing with Constitutional Amendments to be placed on the ballot. Hence, the President of the United States and the Governor of California do not have the power to veto a two-thirds majority vote of the Congress or Legislature, respectively.

Therefore, Jennifer Goddard's action in vetoing the two-thirds majority vote to place the Minority Amendment on the ballot is not in keeping with our established concepts of democracy. This despotic display of one individual flagrantly refusing to respect the decision of the majority is provided for in our own Valley College A.S. Constitution! I ask you, is this democracy?

The Star has failed to distinguish between the Minority Issue and that related but separate issue confronting Executive Council. The issue to be decided upon by Executive Council for the last 10 weeks has not been the morality or the legality of the establishment of two minority seats on Council, as you have repeatedly and inaccurately stressed. IT HAS BEEN SIMPLY WHETHER THE ISSUE WAS IMPORTANT ENOUGH TO PLACE ON THE BALLOT TO BE VOTED ON IN A GENERAL ELECTION!!

Lack of representation in Executive Council seems to have been compounded with misrepresentation by the media. The media in a democratic society also has a sacred trust to inform and protect the rights of the people. However, your misrepresentation has clouded the issue as it directly related to Executive Council; and, in this way, you have failed to inform students and carry out the ultimate responsibilities of the media in a democratic system.

In viewing of the statements I have made and supported, I remind the Star that before you can accuse me of resigning from a democratic system, perhaps you had better first establish that one actually existed from which to resign.

Rebutts North

Editor:

In reference to Gary North's article, "'Minority' Issue Trouble Many," I would like to make the following statements:

First, Jan Crane and I were and are strong supporters of the "Minority Amendment," but more importantly, we are even stronger supporters of the right of the student body to decide on the issue, a right which council attempted to deny.

Secondly, Mr. North has observed that Ms. Crane and I were "constantly belittled by Black and Brown students as 'them sweet whitey liberals' who were 'less racist' than other council members. If such words were actually spoken, they never reached my ears. The Black and Chicano students involved in this issue have shown me nothing but honest, open communication, if not friendship, whereas certain members of council have said things behind my back, which, if spoken to my face, could have been discussed and perhaps cleared up.

Thirdly, it was inferred that Ms. Crane frequently stuck her tongue out at Larry Hanna. In all my time observing council, Ms. Crane only once used such a gesture, not without provocation from Mr. Hanna. You fail to mention Mr. Hanna's ridiculous action of jumping up in a panic and screaming, "She's attacking me . . ." when one Black woman made a move to speak to him. (I would like to point out that at no time did she touch him.)

Lastly, Ms Crane, Mitchell Harmatz, and I DID NOT QUIT! We resigned from an organization which, in our observations, had become something other than a democratic, just, and rational organization. We felt that we could be more effective working outside that system, rather than having every attempt at keeping democacy alive frustrated at every turn.

Dismay and Shock

Editor:

In the winter of 1972, responding to reports of significant attempts at proselytization of Jewish students on campus by young zealots of Christian fundamentalism, I gave a series of talks on the historical Jesus sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at LAVC. Using an unprejudicial critical apparatus and following form critical procedures, I pointed out that the Gospels account of Jesus not only bristles with historical problems of major proportions but also has been one of the foci of controversy between Judaism and Christianity.

Jewish scholars have developed a numbers of patterns of argument, from confident and defiant theological criticisms to politically-oriented studies, which continually challenge successfully the Christian orthodox options. Significantly, a growing number of conservative Christian scholars and lay people are advocating that Judaism possesses a covenant from God which is "eternal, forever" (Dr. Billy Graham), and not subject to abrogation.

Thus my dismay and shock to see in your issue of May 3 a full page ad paid by "Jews for Jesus" which not only contains mistruths, and overstatements, but violates openly the religious guidelines adopted by Valley College, the Community College Board, and campus religious groups relative to Jewish-Christian concerns here on campus. The ad encourages the Jew to accept Jesus as Lord, God, and Savior and this is tantamount to one of the most hideous crimes of the Torah and Judaism: the sin of idolatry, conveniently called in this case, Jesuolatry.

Implicit in the advertisement is the damnation of the Jew (living or dead) who does not accept Jesus and this is a derrogatory insult to the Jewish people who last week were remembering the martyrs and heroes of the Holocaust who died as Jews in death camps in the heart of Christendom. Make no mistakes about it: most of the Nazis were baptized Christians. One can not deny that Goering died a Lutheran and Hitler died a Catholic. That is the problem: the heathenism of the baptized, and not the damnation of the innocent who refuse to be blind amen-sayers of the churches.

The Beth Sar Shalom ad is part of an annual budget of two million dollars raised by the American Baptist Board of Missions to the Jews for converting Jews, of which $250,00 is spent on mass media evangelism. It takes close to $500 to convert a single Jew. What a pitiful waste of effort, time, and money! These very sums can be used in the proper Christian spirit to care for unfortunate victims of natural disasters, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, heal the sick, enlighten the ignorant, defend the oppressed, and liberate the enslaved.

It may be assumed that the advisers and editors of the Valley Star are of the opinion that in an open democratic society conversion is permissible and inevitable; and that there exists a two-way traffic between Christians who become Jews, and individual Jews who become Christians.

This I can accept since conversion involves an act of private decision. But proselytization as shown in the Beth Sar Shalom ad represents a concerted effort to undermine the religious commitments of another group. This is absolutely dishonest, and must be viewed as impermissible.

Nothing short of a public apology and a commitment not to repeat this gross error would erase the immorality of last week's action that has hurt and insulted a significant group of the campus community.

In the office of vice president, the main concern is taking care of IOC (the student clubs). But what is the reason that clubs are folding with a week of school?

Well, if Derek Lawson is elected to student council by way of vice president, I will make it a point to attend two club meetings a week and find out what the club is doing for the enjoyment of the students. Also to work for better attendance by the club reps at IOC meetings.

Eric Thompson

I am a candidate for AS vice president because I hope to help achieve more representative government and more responsive government for all students on LAVC campus.

Also to insure working student officers, to instigate a pertinent speaker series, to work toward a child care center, to increase awareness of the handicapped on campus, to hold open finance committee meetings, to evaluate and upgrade the worth and benefits of the AS I.D. card, and most important, to re-evaluate and re-assess the present student government.

Public Relations

Barbara Branson

It will be my desire upon election to the office of commissioner of public relations to make my time, my thoughts, and my vote a useful tool of the students on this campus.

Each student and each problem that I will encounter, if elected to this office, will receive equal concern.

Bertha Chacon

Students need to become aware of our AS Council and I feel that as commissioner of public relations I will do the work for all the students in order for proper representation to be given.

Fine Arts

Barbara Balzac

No statement was offered by Barbara Balzac.

Mike Browne

No statement was offered by Mike Browne.

Bill Lanphar

My name is Bill Lanphar. I am a music major and I am seeking the office of commissioner of fine arts.

A person elected to this office should represent and unite students of the fine arts with the purpose of maintaining and building an atmosphere conducive to creativity and the expansion of artistic experience.

I also believe that any and all persons elected to office must use his or her voting power to affect just representation of all students to the highest degree possible.

Social Activities

Robin Brooks

Being actively involved on Executive Council this semester as comissioner of scholastic activities, I feel I can be of further benefit to Valley College in another area. As commissioner of social activities, I would bring outside performers and speakers that you, the students, want.

The many social activties that I will bring to this campus will be a great success for the student body and the school. I also wish to bring "big name" performers that would recirculate vast amounts of money into the AS budget.

Yocee Rechtman

My name is Yocee Rechtman. I believe that every student has the right to participate in all student activities. I need your vote to serve as your commissioner of social activities. I am committed to represent you, your wants, and your needs.

The name Yocee Rechtman stands for greater student participation. If you agree we need forward looking representative government, join with me in voting for Yocee Rechtman for commissioner of social activities.

Kevin Stern

As commissioner of social activities, I will do my best to have some concerts and dances next semester that would attract everyone.

As assistant station manager and program director of KLAV this semester, and IOC representative for the Broadcasting Club, I feel that I know what people want and am qualified to hold the position of commissioner of social activities.

Women's Athletics

Karen Bird

I have been active in women's and coed athletic programs since attending Valley College. I feel that I am the best prepared candidate to represent the students involved in this program.

Vote for Karen Bird, commissioner of women's athletics.

Sonia Loya

I, Sonia Loya, am a declared candidate for the office of women's athletics because I feel that the status of women's athletics must be given equal consideration as that of men's athletics receives.

I also feel strongly that each member of council has an obilgation to represent all students.

Scholastic Activities

Jo Caiola

The office of commissioner of scholastic activities is primarily concerned with the honest and fair selection of recipients of scholarships and grants. Another function is the organizing and preparing of the Dean's Tea.

Seeing that I have a 3.2 gpa, I feel I am capable of representing the academic students of Valley College.

Valerie Little

No statement was offered by Valerie Little.

AWS President

Bobbe McGhie

In running for AWS president, I stand on a platform that is concerned with all my fellow students but especially those problems of women. Child care is still not a reality! Why? And there are no special provisions for the older students in terms of special counseling or orientation programs! Why?

I intend to revitalize the position of AWS president, to fulfill our needs by dedication, hard work, and creative ideas.

Evening Division

Jim Ballsun

I, Jim Ballsun, am running for commissioner of evening division. I am an administration of justice major.

I believe I can provide a more democratic student government than Jennifer Goddard now represents, by allowing measures affecting students which are in controversy to be decided by the students themselves by referendum voting.

I want the chance to give students a measure of control over their government. Want to do more than complain? Elect Jim Ballsun.

Alex Hampton

The recent defeat of the Equal Representation Amendment is a gross miscarriage of the representative system of government that is supposed to exist on this campus.

As commissioner of evening division, I will do my best to support the rights of the petitioning majority and protect the rights of all minorities.

I have the endorsement of the right honorable Commissioner of Evening Division Mitchell Harmatz (resigned). Support equal representation! Vote for Alex Hampton, commissioner of evening division.

Kass Nowlin

I believe that I would make a good commissioner of evening division. I understand the way council works. I've been to most of their meetings this semester and I know what's going on.

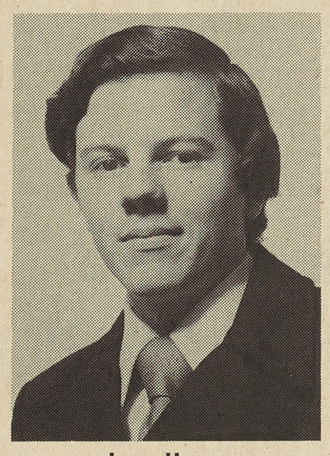
EDITOR'S NOTE

All candidates were given a "publicity" sheet in their election packet and were required to return it with the packet. Some candidates did not wish to make a statement, therefore "no statement was offered" by them.

Other candidates did not return the slip or marked something to the affect, "statement to be made later." These candidates lost their chances to have their statement published in the Valley Star.

Some statements had to be edited for length. An arbitrary length of 75 words was set, but we extended this to 90 words.

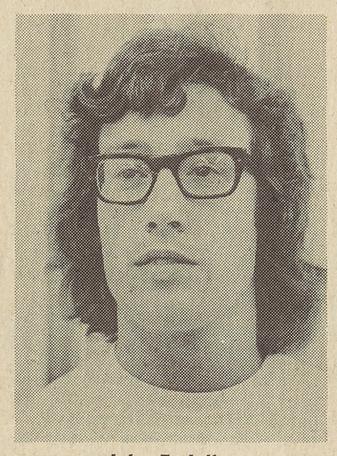
Associated Students President



Larry Hanna

The office of president means a great deal to the college. The president of the student body must be a lobbyist if he or she wants to get things done. I feel well qualified for the position, both on the basis of many school experiences and a desire to serve one semester more.

I will continue working for tuition-free junior colleges, child care centers, and security parking for your protection. I cannot promise all of the above, but I give you my word that I will do my best.

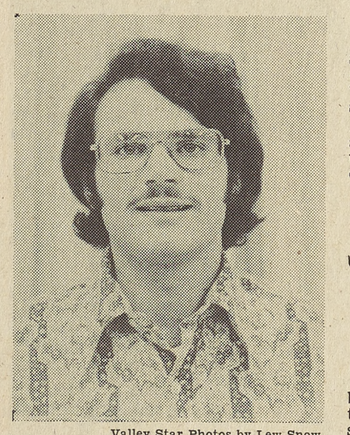


John E. Jolly

The ethnic proposals are issues on which we agree, hence are not issues at all. Consider the problems of censorship of all student related activities, which, in a mature educational institution, is an insult to student's intelligence.

Further . . . the need for complete revision of our ambiguous and antiquated AS Constitution: the need for increased communication between students and their government . . . and the power of that government . . . only a sampling of issues.

READ THE CAMPAIGN RAG ! ! !

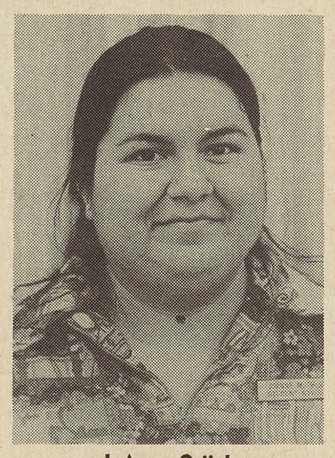


Valley Star Photos by Lew Snow

Jeff Magidson

My candidacy is based upon the premise that one person, each person, can make a difference; that the acts of each of us can work to change events to better your student government and that the total of all our acts can change the course of student government politics for the coming semesters and continuing onward.

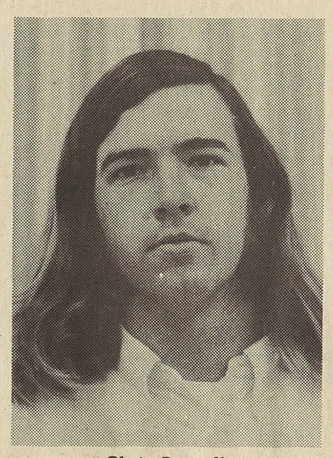
We must have the vision to plan the future and the common sense to profit from the past.



JoAnne Orijel

It is my belief that the office of A.S. president has been grossly misused in this last year. Communication between students on this campuns and the president has suffered a great deal. It is not enough to be able to see or hear the A.S. president when she presides over a meeting.

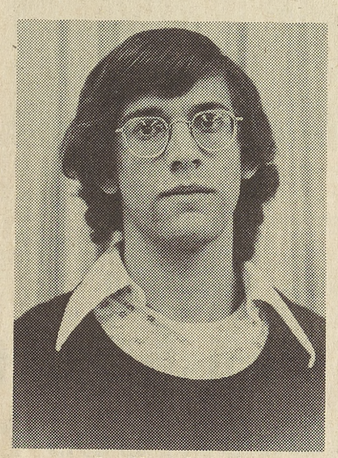
The essential duty of that office is to keep in touch with the opinions of the students here on campus. Executive Council controls thousands of student dollars, you should have a say in where it goes.



Chris Russell

Qualifications: Initiated and directed heroin rehabilitation program while in Vietnam; familiar with school administrators and Executive Council; originated and circulated 1,300 questionnaires to become aware of student needs; spent four days in a wheelchair gaining insight into the problems of the handicapped.

Platform: Put originality and objectivity into student government; make it more attractive to be in A.S.; eliminate poll tax; surveys to find needs of students; research possibility of day care.



Sandford Scharf

My name is Sandford Scharf and I am running for AS president. I will not even attempt to make any campaign promises because I do not know if I would be able to fulfill them or not.

The one thing that I do wish to achieve if elected is better representation to any group on campus that believes they need it. Aside from that, I would have to play it by ear.

"US:" United Students for Responsive Government. My name is Mitchell Harmatz and I am a member of "US." Our coalition of concerned students believe in the following:

An active student council having a relevant speaker series; open forums between faculty, students, and council members; and, most importantly, working representatives, not an unresponsive council. Also we believe in open finance committee meetings so students will know how their monies are spent.

Please vote and join "US," United Students for Responsive Government.

John Marsh

Chief Justice

Glen S. Margaretten

I've chosen to run for this office because of my present disdain for the way student government represents the students. It's appalling how the vehicle of student government has never been used to legislate favorable rights for the students.

It disturbs me to know that the administration of this school has complete jurisdiction over the implementation of student body funds. In other words, guest speakers on campus paid for by student body fees must first be approved by the administration.

Bill Nelson

An area which greatly concerns me is our court system. It must be run fairly and intelligently. I'm presently serving as the Men's President and have served as Commissioner of Elections.

Having achieved one of the finest elections in history of Valley College, I feel that I have the necessary experience and am the best qualified to serve you as your Chief Justice.

Campus Improvements

Kerry Beeder

With a vote on council equal to that of any and all other members, I will follow guidelines in support of those programs with which I must strongly affiliate. Such guidelines, and top on my priority list, will be the music, art, and athletic programs.

Along with these and other strongly backed student activities, it will be possible to promote more enthusiastic involvement on and off our campus. I would like to find after my semester of service, harmony among the students of this campus.

David Churchill

No statement was offered by David Churchill.

Elections

Martha Dickman

I've been on Executive Council for two semesters and would like to continue the fight for student needs.

As commissioner of elections, I would be able to fulfill the specific duties of that office, and, at the same time, remain active in the battle to keep honest and open communication between members of council and between council and the students.

Bob Grella

I, Bob Grella, am a candidate for the commissioner of elections. I am running for office because I want to run and try to benefit all the students at Valley.

If elected, I plan to work toward representation on council for all minorities and equal voting rights for all students on campus.

N. Jeffrey Reese

Art Dept. To Hold Annual Open House

Valley's Art Department will be holding its annual orientation and open house today starting at 11 a.m.

The program will include a slide show, "Hasifer Jones Wardrobe Preview," student films and slides, a student art show, and at 11:30, a "Tribute to Picasso.'

Taking place in the Art Building complex at the north end of the campus, the show will last until 1 p.m.

Valley Gymnastic's Team Takes Fourth in State Championships

By LARRY ALLEN
Sports Editor

The most successful week in the history of Valley College gymnastics was culminated last Saturday when Coach Ted Calderone's team finished fourth in the state finals at Rio Hondo College.

Never before had a Monarch gymnastic team qualified for the state finals in team competition, but on a brisk night in Orange County, Valley made the most of their initial opportunity.

Led by outstanding individual performances by Dana Crosley, Greg Casian, and Gary Callahan among others, Valley (149.94) finished behind only Long Beach (168.29), Pasadena (158.37), and Golden West (155.0).

For the state champion Vikings, their team total established a new national junior college record, obliterating the old mark. Their point total would probably place them very high in the NCAA tournament.

Valley also did very well in the individual competition held Saturday evening. Dana Crosley's 46.475 total got him a sixth in the all-around, and he also garnered a fourth in vaulting with an 8.5, and a fifth in high bar (8.7).

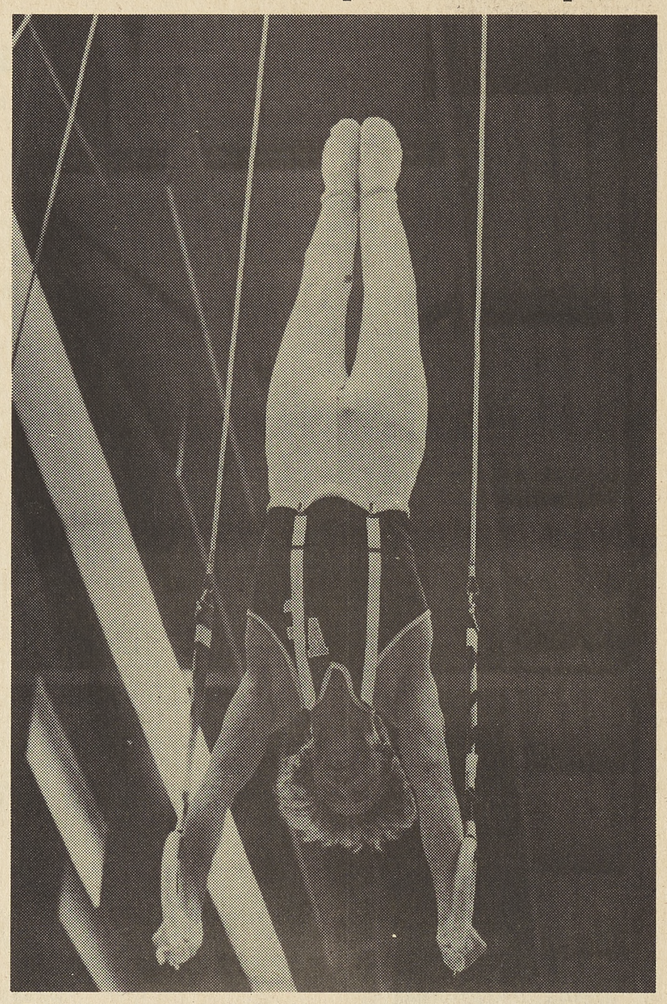
Other outstanding performances were turned in by Gary Callahan (8.3), who took a sixth in the pommel horse, and Greg Casian (8.95), who received a fine 8.95 from the judges in the floor exercise for a third.

"It was a supreme effort by everyone," said assistant coach John Magginetti. "Nobody on the team let down at all, and everyone did the best they possibly could."

On Wednesday of last week, the Monarchs defeated Pierce and L.A. City College to qualify for the state finals in team competition. Valley's 152.95 total was the best in the school's history.

TEAM FINISHERS
Long Beach 168.29, Pasadena 158.37, Golden West 155.00, Valley 149.94, Diablo Valley 137.32.

INDIVIDUAL FINISHERS
All Around—1. Walters (Pasadena) 51.75, Rude (Long Beach) 50.95, 3. Tidwell (Long Beach) 49.90, 4. Pascale (Pasadena) 49.70, 5. Johnson (Golden West) 49.50, 6. Crosley (Valley) 46.70.



PERFORMING ON THE RINGS at the state finals at Rio Hondo is Jim Pruitt. Pruitt was one of the main reasons that the Valley gymnasts finished fourth, the best in the school's history.

Baseballers Meet Vikings In Metro Playoff Game

By GEORGE L. PHILLIPS
Sports Editor

The Valley baseball squad tuned up for Saturday's playoff with Long Beach by splitting the last two games of the season. Pierce fell victim to the Monarchs, 5-3, last Saturday. This was the third Valley win over the Brahmas in four meetings this year. In the last game of the season, Thursday, the Lancers of Pasadena handed Valley a 13-6 setback to give Valley a 5-5 record for the second half of the season.

All this adds up to the final showdown at El Camino this Saturday. The playoff between the two best teams from each half of the season is new this year. Valley was 8-2 in the first half to gain that berth.

The winner will meet Cerritos in the first round of the Southern California playoffs. Cerritos is currently ranked first in the state.

The games last week served as tune-ups for the Long Beach game. Here are the accounts of those games:

VALLEY 5, PIERCE 3

Steve Wold won in relief to run his record to 3-1 for the season. His efforts came toward the end of the game which was fortunate for him because that's when the Valley squad started scoring. Pierce's Steve Biachi had held them scoreless for six innings and led 3-0.

In the seventh Rich Reichle walked, stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on Charlie Ellis' single. It was the beginning of the end for Bianchi.

Rick Cuoco drove in two runs in the eighth to tie the score at 3-3. Then, in the ninth, with two out, Mitch Harmatz tripled to drive in Wold, who reached base on an error. Harmatz scored the final Valley run when Bob Azzarito singled.

PASADENA 13, VALLEY 6

Of all the teams in the Metro Conference, Pasadena was the toughest on the Monarchs. After dropping the league opener, 3-1, the Lancers pounded Valley three times in a row. They averaged 11 runs a game for those final three contests.

Mike Farenbaugh and John Flinn were the victims this time. The second inning saw eight Lancers score as 12 men came to the plate. The rest of the game was batting practice for both teams as Valley looked ahead to El Camino and the big game with Long Beach.

Volleyballers Take Third in State Meet

Valley's volleyball squad finished third among 15 teams in the first annual State Championship held last week at San Bernardino, highlighting the end of a very successful season.

El Camino College won the tournament and San Bernardino Valley College took second.

Valley opened action with a 3-0 (13-1, 14-12, 13-5) win over Golden West College, but lost to El Camino, 2-1 (13-8, 1-13, 11-13).

The Monarchs bounced back to whip Riverside College, 13-5, 13-5, 13-5, and Cerritos College, 9-15, 15-4, 15-12.

San Bernardino outlasted Valley, 14-16, 15-1, 16-14, in the quarterfinals, but once again the Monarchs put it all together to beat Metro champion, Long Beach City College, 15-7, in the consolation match for third place.

Monarchs Dave Olmstead and John Bentley were selected to the all-tournament team.

Asked about Valley's two losses in the tournament, Coach Christian said, "El Camino got their top two players back after being injured all season long, and Olmstead and Bentley had muscle cramps when we played San Bernardino."

The team wrapped up the season with a 13-7 overall record.

'Baseball-ing' Ladies Win Nine Straight

It was another successful week for Valley's women athletic teams. Here are the results:

SOFTBALL

Valley made it nine straight victories without a defeat in the Metro Conference this season, with a 3-1 win over Ventura College last week at Valley Plaza Park.

Monarch hurler, Donna Maga, was up to par again, striking out 11 and allowing only four hits. Leftfielder Shannon Atkinson led Valley's offensive attack, collecting two hits and a walk.

The team leads second place El Camino College by two and a half games in the conference standings, with Ventura, East Los Angeles College, and Los Angeles City College in a tight fight for third place. Santa Monica City College trails the pack and is seven and a half games out of first place.

TENNIS

The Monarchs split a pair of matches last week to bring their conference record to 5-3 and drop to third in the standings.

Valley slipped past Bakersfield College, 4-3 and lost to Pasadena City College, 5-2.

BADMINTON

After losing, 14-8, to Pasadena in a conference match on Thursday, Valley finished eighth among 25 teams in the State Badminton Tournament last weekend.

The Murray Adams-Karen Southwick mixed doubles team placed second to lead the Monarchs.

SWIMMING

Valley captured second place in a tri-meet against College of Sequoias (78 points) and Los Angeles City College (10) points last week at the winner's pool.

Top Monarch individual showings came from Penie Feehan, Jaime Barnes, Loretta Joy, and Cathy Peacock.

Tennis Team Shows Well At El Camino

Who would have guessed at the beginning of the year that the Valley College tennis team would qualify a singles player and two doubles entries for the Southern California Championships Thursday through Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. at Long Beach?

Maybe not even the coach, but that's exactly what the Monarch netters accomplished last week at the Metropolitan Conference finals last week at El Camino.

Little Qualifies

Jim Little, Valley's top seeded player, qualified in singles by downing Steve Cook of Pierce, 6-4, 6-3, and Long Beach's Duane Stotland, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3, before losing to Pierce's Marshall Manson in the quarter-finals, 6-4, 7-5.

In doubles, Little-Kerry Beeder qualified by beating Scott Davis-McCarthy, 6-3, 6-2, before losing to Manson-Gary Quandt, 6-2, 6-2, and John Empey-Scott also qualified by surprising the fifth seeded team of Danny Mull-Steve Charem of El Camino, 6-4, 6-3, before falling to Bakersfield's Hank Pfister-Dan Kelner, 6-1, 6-1.

Empey-Scott Surprise

Coach Al Hunt was especially pleased with the play of Empey and Scott. Scott was a last-minute replacement for Gary Marks, who had a stomach pull, and Scott and Empey had not played much together before.

The winner in single's competition was Pfister, who overpowered Pasadena's Curt Condon with his rocket serve, 6-2, 7-6. Condon came back in doubles, however, to team with Ross Hollowell and defeat Manson-Quandt, 6-3, 6-2, for the tandem title.

Golf Squad Ends Season Taking Fifth

Golf, like many other sports, is often a game of inches. Nobody knows that better than Valley's Gary Bric, competing last Monday at the Metropolitan Conference Tournament in Palm Springs.

In a sudden-death playoff with Bakersfield's Tom Underhill to qualify for the state meet, Bric missed a birdie by less than an inch to lose to Underhill, who had already birdied the hole. His miss marked the end of the year for the Valley golf team.

No other Monarch really came close to qualifying, and as a team Valley finished a distant fifth. Finishing ahead of Valley (971) were Long Beach (913), El Camino (914), Bakersfield (934), and Pierce (954), while Pasadena was disqualified. Both regular season Metro champ Long Beach and tourney winner El Camino have clinched state berths.

Bric had a fine two-round total of 153 on the sweltering Canyon Country Club course, but a seven on the last hole in the second round of competition forced the playoff, which proved disasterous for Bric.

Fred Sinclair, Valley's most consistent performer for the year, had a disappointing day, faltering to a 162 total. Valley's second best performance of the day was turned in by Jim Gillooly, who had rounds of 78 and 81 to finish up with a 159.

Other Valley scores in the tourney were Steve Melton's 168, Lyle Dirk's 164, and Doug Lagerson's 165.

Lion Swimmers Blanked at State

Despite not scoring a point in the State Junior College Swimming Championships last week, Valley set five personal all-time best times.

Metro and Southern California champion Pasadena College placed third behind Diablo Valley and host Foothill College.

Some of the brighter moments for the locals were Paul McGawley's all-time best in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 1:52.4, Jim Keenan's 200-yard breaststroke in 2:24.7, and Chuck Baumgarner in the 200 breast with an all-time best of 2:29.7.

The relay events also proved to be successful for the Monarchs. In the 800-yard freestyle, Valley placed 16th out of 48 schools who were competing for the title. The locals scored another season best by breaking the one-time season low time by 12 seconds (7:44.0). The team was composed of McCawley, Gary Leeds, Rod Perdew, and Charlie Sleight. The same team also shattered the 400-yard relay low for the year by five seconds.

Records are made to be broken, and at least five national community college records were shattered.

Trackmen Finish Last in Metro; Injuries, Absentees Hurt Squad

By LARRY ALLEN
Sports Editor

The real story in the Metropolitan Conference track and field championships for Valley College was not who competed, but who didn't compete.

Missing from the Monarch squad last Friday night at Pierce were defending state 440 champion David Sanchez, sprinter Robert Hixon, 880 standout Craig Clemmer, distance ace Steve Acuff, hurdlers Don Klosterman and Joe Trujillo, and high jumpers Lee Nicholl and Jack Weed (who am I leaving out?). The loss of these individuals, both because of injuries and for personal reasons, most probably cost Valley close to 30 points.

Without many of their top performers competing, Coaches Nick Giovinozzo and George Ker could only shake their heads and helplessly watch from the bleachers as the Monarchs finished dead last in the Metro finals with only 41 points. Bakersfield College, building a track dynasty second possibly only to the UCLA basketball team, finished with an incredible 162 points, followed by Pierce (85), Long Beach (73), El Camino (67), and Pasadena (66).

Renegades Awesome

For the winning Renegades, they have won the Metro title six straight years and nine of the last ten, and their point total tied the all-time high in a Metro championship meet. Before the night was over they won six events and displayed awesome depth.

Although the Monarchs did not have a single winner in the meet, several performers turned in outstanding performances. John Loomis, who ran the 880 most of the year, jumped to an early lead in the mile, but was finally passed in the last 220 by Jim Chaffin. Chaffin won the race in 4:19.8 closely followed by Loomis in 4:22.3.

Goines Go-Go-Goes

Jerry Alexander (14:27.1) and Scott Schweitzer (14:31.8) both ran their lifetime best in the three-mile to finish third and fourth, respectively. The race was one of the most exciting of the evening, with Thomas Rodriguez (El Camino) jumping to the lead at the mile and one half, before being overtaken by Danny Villalovos of Bakersfield on the final lap.

Sprinter Darryl Goines had a busy evening for Valley, taking a third in the 100 (10.1), a fifth in the 220 (22.4), and anchoring the Monarch's 440 relay team to a third place finish (43.0).

Other Valley point-getters in the running events were Steve Sheehey, registering a lifetime best of 1:57.5 for a sixth in the 880, and Derek Lawson, capturing a sixth in the 440 in 51.4.

Best Valley finishers in the field events were Chuck Wilson (45-1), a fifth in the shot put; Dave McKenzie (42-8¾), a sixth in the triple jump; and Larry Fuller (13-6), a fifth in the pole vault.

The top five finishers in each event qualify for the Southern California finals, slated Saturday, May 19, at Compton.

The average Navy Pilot isn't.

No man who has mastered the flying skills it takes to fly and land on a ship at sea can be called an average pilot. And the sense of accomplishment and satisfaction that he enjoys are also above average. Which is only right. For the man who would go places as a Naval Aviator must pass through the most challenging and demanding training program to be found anywhere.

From Aviation Officer Candidate School through Flight Training to the day his golden Navy Wings are awarded, he is tested; driven; pushed and tested again. And for good reason. The Navy has learned that without the will to succeed, no man can be successful.

Which brings us to you. Do you have what it takes to fly Navy? Talk with your local Navy recruiter. Or, call him at if you're serious about backpacking-

Stag bags with Dacron® Fiberfill II are nearly as warm, but cost a lot less than down

We aren't putting down down. We make a great line of down-filled bags and trail clothing. But now we have a new line of Stag trail bags stuffed with DuPont Dacron® Fiberfill II. Different weights and lengths in mummy, tapered companion and rectangular bags. All with nylon covers and linings and a water-proof stuff bag. These bags can get soaked, yet they'll dry quickly when wrung out and hung open. Down is great, but it won't recover like this. Most im-portant, our Stag bags offer the warmth of down at only a bit more weight. Our popular mummy bag, filled with 3 lbs. of Fiberfill II, weighs only 4½ lbs. and it's rated for cold weather.

What you need to know about Dacron Fiberfill II:
☐ Compacts easily into a small stuff bag ☐ Recovers quickly from compression and is easy to refluff
☐ Keeps its fluff and insulating value even when wet
☐ Is machine washable and dryable ☐ Long lasting, non-allergenic, odorless and consistent in quality
☐ Costs a lot less than down.

When price is important, consider a Stag trail bag. Compare them and our trail tents and backpacks at your sporting goods dealer. He might be having a sale right now!

Our transfer students don't just study equal rights.

They get them.

It's no fun being a transfer student when you find the courses you want all filled up. Or the dorms the same way.

It happens.

We try to make sure it doesn't happen at The American University.

This year, we have about 1,100 transfer students, so we know a thing or two about making the transition as painless as possible.

If you're a transfer student, the first thing we do, the minute you get on campus, is try to get you to forget it. We give you inside information on courses, programs, professors, activities, places to have a good time, you name it. And we keep room draw and registration open long enough for you to get equal rights.

Because, here, you are equal.

STUDENT INFORMATION ADMISSIONS AND ENROLLMENT

Authorization

This schedule is an official publication of Los Angeles Valley College. It sets forth rules and regulations and, in case of conflict with information previously published, supersedes those publications of earlier date. A copy is made available for each student who is expected to familiarize himself with the contents and conduct himself in accordance with procedures and regulations contained herein.

Student's Statements

Falsification of any record or signed statement, or the withholding of information, subjects the student to immediate suspension or expulsion.

Non-Resident Students

Students who are non-residents of California at the time they apply for admission, or who may be classed as non-residents, should request further information outlining definitions of non-resident students.

Prospective students in this category who are applying for admission to any Los Angeles District Community College are advised that there will be a tuition charge.

The amount to be charged is established by the Board of Governors, California Community Colleges each year. The tuition charge for the 1973-74 school year will be $27.00 per unit up to a maximum of $810.00 per year for full-time students.

All non-resident tuition fees must be paid in full by June 15, 1973.

Adult Education Fee

A fee of $3.00 per unit will be collected from students 21 years of age or older as of June 1, 1973, who enroll in evening classes for adults in less than ten (10) hours per week. Exempted from payment of this fee are:

1. Students attending apprenticeship classes as defined in Education Code 10509.
2. Students who sign a statement at the fee window that they are financially unable to pay.

Refunds of fees will be made only as follows:

1. If the class for adults is cancelled, and the student does not choose to enroll in another class of equivalent credit value.
2. If the student drops a class or all classes officially prior to, or within the first week of the semester.

No claim for refunds will be honored after the close of the semester for which the student enrolled.

Course Prerequisites

Students should note that some classes have subject prerequisites, and also that there are a few classes where it is necessary to have the permission of the instructor to enroll. The latter is required in order that the instructor may ascertain if the student has the proper foundation to profit from the class.

POLICIES, PROCEDURES AND SERVICES

First Day of Instruction

Instruction begins on Monday, June 18, 1973. No student will be admitted to class unless the instructor has an official notification of his enrollment.

Maximum Unit Load

Students may carry a maximum of seven units. Any exceptions must be by permission of the Dean of Admissions and Guidance

Concurrent enrollment at other collegiate institutions without prior authorization precludes acceptance of unit credit by Valley College for any courses completed in this way.

Program Adjustment

It is essential that registration materials be made out accurately and carefully. While classes may be dropped any time before Friday of the fourth week, classes may be added only during Program Adjustment period.

Attendance Regulations

A student is expected to attend every meeting of each class for which he is registered except in cases involving personal illness or injury. Three cases of tardiness will be considered the equivalent of one absence. A student who exceeds the maximum number of unexcused absences may be dropped from class.

Auditing

State Law does not permit auditing at Valley College. No one may attend a class unless officially enrolled. (Students may not "sit in" a class for which they are not enrolled in the hope that a vacancy may occur.)

Discontinued Classes

It sometimes becomes necessary for the college to cancel classes because of insufficient enrollment. A student who is enrolled for a class which has been discontinued will be notified by the Office of Admissions and steps taken to permit priority enrollment in a suitable alternative class.

Withdrawal

A student who wishes to drop a class or withdraw from school during the session must notify the Office of Admissions. Failure to withdraw officially may result in an "F" grade. The instructor is not obliged to exclude a student for non-attendance; it is the student's responsibility to withdraw officially.

Veterans

Training is offered under the provisions of Public Law 610 or 894 (Disabled Veterans), Public Law 358 ("Cold War"), and the California Veterans Bill.

War Orphans Bill, (P.L. 634) application forms for submitting to the Veterans Administration may be obtained from veteran's counselor.

A bulletin of information explaining veteran's regulations in detail may be obtained in the Office of Admissions. All questions dealing with the rights and privileges of the veterans will be answered by the veteran's advisor in the Office of Admissions (A 126).

Counseling

Counseling services are available in the Admissions and Guidance Office on a "drop-in" basis or by appointment Monday through Thursday 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., and Friday 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Questions having to do with career planning, program and course selection, transference and certification, "forgiveness" of grades on repeated classes and similar inquiries should be directed to a counselor, who is also prepared to assist with personal problems and concerns.

REHABILITATION COUNSELING SERVICE

Students who have physical, emotional or other disabilities may avail themselves of the services of the Rehabilitation Counselor, (Adm. 126). Students under the sponsorship of the California State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation must make arrangements to meet with the Rehabilitation (Special Programs) Counselor. Further information may be obtained in the Office of Admissions and Guidance.

GRADE FORGIVENESS POLICY

A student may petition for the "forgiveness" of a "D", "F" or "Incomplete" grade through the Office of Admissions and Guidance under these conditions:

1. Only courses taken at Valley and repeated at Valley will be considered for Grade Forgiveness.
2. To be eligible for Grade Forgiveness the student must have been in attendance at least one semester since Fall 1970.
3. A student may petition for Grade Forgiveness of a "D", "F" or "Inc." after the class is repeated with a higher grade. "Forgiveness" means the lining out of the original grade(s). The original grade(s) will not be included in computing the overall grade point average.
4. A maximum of 12 units of repeated "F's", "D's" or "Inc.'s" or a combination of these grades may be forgiven.

PARTICIPANTS AND VISITORS ALIKE are transformed from the everyday city life to an Elizabethan lifestyle the minute their foot touches down on the acreage accommodating the annual Renaissance Pleasure Faire.

New Pleasure Faire Pleasure To Behold

By JOHN REID

The Renaissance Pleasure Faire in Agoura is a pleasure to behold.

Although it's grown and evolved in 11 years, and no matter how commercial some may call it, it remains as unpretentious as ever. There are also some new changes that may startle the visitor.

Isolation

One example is a route drivers must take to reach the 16th century assemblage. The fair is in the same place, but a three to four mile detour now involves a trek through green hills and tight curves. So much the better. It isolates the event.

Once one pays the entrance fee, admittedly expensive (but there is so much to see), the ribald times of Da Vinci, Michelangelo, and William

Blake are at your disposal. Handmade products such as jack-in-the-boxes are on sale for $25, stained glass windows sell around $330, and enbroidered deer skin for $115 a shirt! (But there is so much to see!)

Even Food Expensive

And food? Visitors can't believe some of the dishes these merchants think up. (They have a harder time believing the exorbitant prices.)

Pack a lunch or pack your pocketbook to enjoy the native, though unfilling, foods.

The occult also thrives easily here, with tarot cards studied for $5, crystal balls gazed into for $7, palms interpreted for $10, and life reading expounded for a mere $20, "by appointment only."

Smaller items, such as mugs and body olis, are inexpensive and practical souvenirs. Besides, how can you turn down a hawker who asks, "Do you have a maid that reeks?"

The fair, with its foibles of expense and commercialism (they now have printed "Renaissance Faire" cups), is nevertheless a joy. One dressed jester wore a button promoting "Gay Power," but why knock a guy who joins the ranks of Shakespeare and Plato, not to mention David Bowie?

Even the security of the fairgrounds is aloof from the 20th century. The "keepers of the land" ride on horseback, while some garbed guards use shovels for a weapon.

Aside from such reminders of authority, the event is a journey into a temporary, charming land. If you don't buy anything, you could call the fair an excellent escape from the world around us. Where else can you wish on a nose or have your past lives examined?

Campus Reflects Lifting Spirits; Rock, Radicals Now Phased Out

JOHN REID
Staff Writer

"Monster movies, conservative speakers, and classical or blues music apparently are 'in' on college campuses this year. Radicals and rock are on the wane," reportes the Associated Press.

The analysis was presented by the National Entertainment Conference this year, in a "noisy" four-day gathering of agents and collegians to arrange bookings for talent on campus.

Country's Mood

"Hard rock" is being heard less, and radical speakers are being balanced with the conservative side, explained the A.P. account.

"It goes along with the mood of the country, a general lifting of the spirit," said one agent before the Watergate scandal brought most souls down to earth.

Alison Vogel, representing the Hurok Speakers Group of New York, stated, "Poetry readings are becoming much more popular. Now the students want poetry, renaissance music, and dance."

Rock Weak

The Fellini film festival at Valley, sponsored by the Italian Club, is one instance of efforts for cultural interpretation. Daily attendance for the five films averages 125 to 150. "Rainbow Bridge," a rock film featuring guitar virtuoso Jimi Hendrix, was also recently shown by the Broadcasting Club. Its attendance averaged less than 120 for two nights.

Examples of a conservative trend at Valley College are not clear-cut. Although Bobby Seale, considered left of liberal, never was financed to speak on this campus, the anti-establishment pursuits of Ralph Nader were to be spoken at a cost of $2,900. His appearnce was canceled because of "contractural problems."

Nostalgia In?

United Films representative Eugene Remels, distributor of horror movies and film classics, says collegians are "turned on to a nostalgia thing." At Valley's campus, nostalgia is a matter of supply and demand. A '50's rock and roll show featuring the electric be-bop of Flash Cadillac never came off. "The TAMI Show" (1964) shown with "Rainbow Bridge," met with a meager audience.

The biting, jug-band tunes of Dan Hicks and His Hot Licks were performed to a responsive, if disgruntled crowd of 1,000. The student body could afford him, however, because he happened to be in town.

Valley College, settled firmly in the San Fernando Valley, has been touched by the national trend. Whether it will follow that course is anyone's guess.

'Rats' Race Through Cheese-Baited Trap of Daily Life

The play "Rats," by Israel Horovit, was presented last Thursday evening in the Lab Theater under the direction of Bonnie Berinstein.

The basic idea behind the story was a rats-eye view of values. When young rat Bobby (Jeff Reese), loses his mother to poisoned cheese, he travels through the sewers from his home in Greenwich Village to find moral support in the philosophy of old, king-rat Jebby, (Jeff Zagnoli).

He finds Jebby living in a playpen with a human baby, (Eleen Simmons). The first value judgment made by Jebby was that dirty human habitations were the best places for a rat to live.

The switch in values comes when young Bobby finds out that tough old Jebby has abandoned his hard-nosed attitude when he refuses to take occasional bites out of the human baby he has grown fond of. Then, after fighting to defend the baby from young Bobby rat, Jebby is double-crossed when the baby "rats" to her parents of his presence.

The performances by Zagnoli and Reese were very powerful. The overall effect was humorous and thought provoking. Reese must also be given cerdit for the lighting, which created the illusion of a playpen on the set.

Hot, Juice Will Perform in Concert Friday

"Hot" will appear in concert tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Monarch Hall. Also appearing will be Juice.

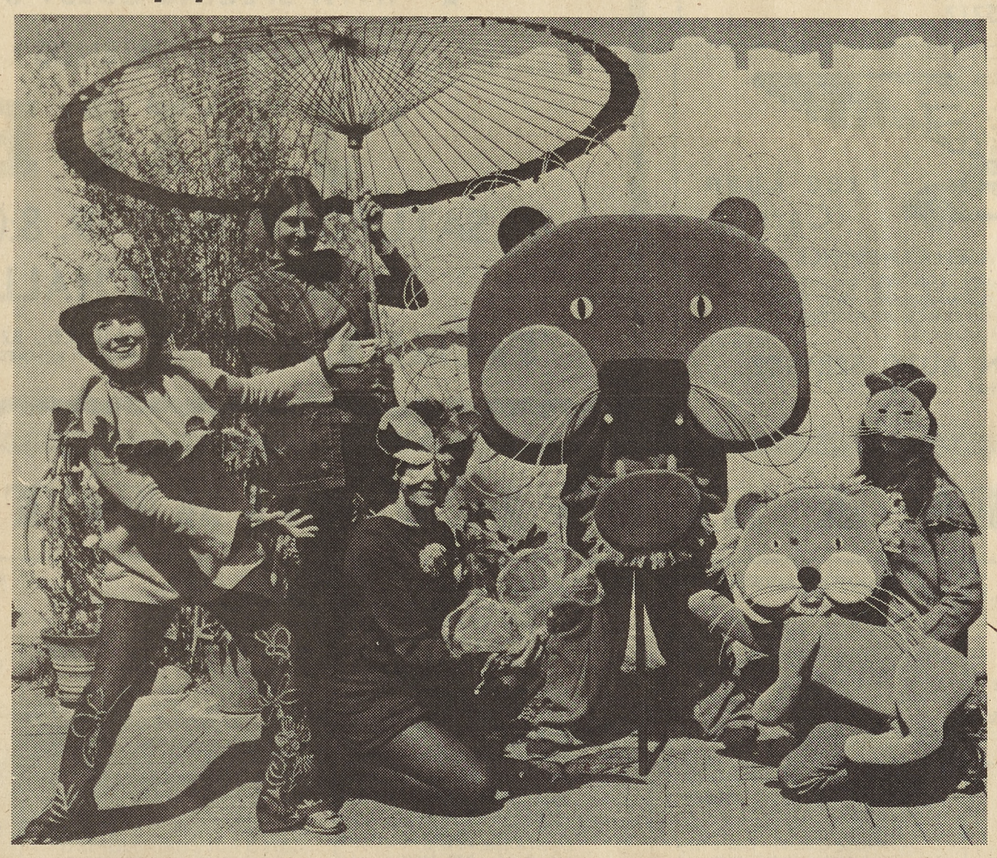
Of English origin, Hot is regarded as America's next supergroup. Their first album is forthcoming on Atlantic records.

A full concert sound system will be provided for the enjoyment of the audience. Refreshments and snacks will be available.

Tickets are free with paid I.D. and $2 without and are available in the business office and at the door.

'Punch and Judy' at Play

Puppets Entrance Children



A puppet presentation of "Punch and Judy" and "Carnival of the Animals" will be presented in the Horseshoe Theater May 12-13 and May 19-20.

Saturday's performances will be at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. and Sunday's at 2 p.m. Admission for children is 25 cents, and adults and senior citizens having a gold card will be admitted free.

The musical accompaniment for "Punch and Judy" is composed by Benjamin Britten and poems related by the animals in "Carnival" are written by Foreman Brown.

Students involved in the production are enrollees or graduates of the Puppetry I and II class. The show is being funded by Community Services.

Baroque Music Explored Today, Monarch Hall

The Los Angeles Baroque Players will perform their repertoire of renaissance, baroque, classic and contemporary music today at 11 a.m. in Monarch Hall.

Members are Ruth Adams, viola Da Gamba; Susan Greenberg, flute; Bess Karp, harpsichord, and Sheldon Sanov, violin.

Each member has an M.A. and has performed professionally throughout the nation. Admission is free.

Performance Sells

Singer Entertaining

Dianne Sells, soprano, instructor in music at Valley, entertains a large and appreciative audience during last Thursday's Campus Concert. Mrs. Sells' performance was particularly notable for her flawless technique and the high degree of dramatic interpretation brought to her selections. Also of particular satisfaction was her choice of accompaniment of songs. Mike Zugsmith

Wanda June Authentic Stage Enhances Applaudable Show

A jungle decor, punctuated by animal skins, various weapons and antlers hanging from the wall, provides the setting for Kurt Vonnegut's play "Happy Birthday Wanda June" which was presented last week in the Horseshoe Theater by the Valley Collegiate players.

The wealthy Harold Ryan (Bart Rubin), has returned home to his family after spending eight years in the jungles of Africa searching for diamonds.

Being admired by many for his bravery in the war and all the animals he killed, Ryan proceeds to tell stories of his experiences. Meanwhile up in heaven, there are people who can tell you the real truth.

First is Wanda June (Robin Chessler), who simply describes the glories of heaven. Then there's Major Von Koningswald (Paul Greenstein), of the German Army to tell how Ryan's stories are exaggerated. Finally, his third wife, Mildred Chris Rodgers, tells about how he drove his three wives to drink because of his obsession with killing animals and premature ejaculation. Cindy Skolnik to help sell a collection of unique advertising signs, posters, whiskey jugs and other old artifacts I have accumulated in a lifetime of living in Lynchburg, Tennessee. My collection includes all kinds of antique things you won't find anyplace else and that look great in college rooms, fraternities or bars. Yet they are priced within most any college man's budget. So if you care to lend me a hand, please write direct to my store here in Lynchburg. I'll rush you some pictures and full particulars on all of my items and how you can earn some good extra money by helping me sell them.

Sincerely,
Herb Fanning

The chapter is now organizing a cruise to Catalina Island on Saturday, May 12, to visit the USC oceanographic facility. Round trip cost is $7. All students may participate in this excursion.

Speaker Coming

"Career Opportunities in Community Recreation" will be discussed by Morris Lubarsky, senior supervisor for the Valley area of the L.A. Department of Parks and Recreation, next Tuesday at 11 a.m. in BS100 as part of the continuing Occupational Exploration Series.

Prof's Book Scores With Rockhounds

Gordon Fay, associate professor of earth sciences, has written a book titled "Rockhound's Manual" published last October and selected by the American Library Association as one of the oustanding scientific and technical books of 1972.

Harper and Row finally published "Rockhound's Manual" in hard-cover, and it has been in print for six months. Fay stated, 'I wrote the book mainly for rockhound tourists, which is a term used to describe people who collect gems and minerals for a hobby."

Fay said, "I studied various similar books that were previously on the market, but couldn't find any that were fully rounded out enough to cover the subject."

Fay teaches physical geography and geology at Valley and has always held the study of mines and oil geology as his greatest interest. When asked if there were many people in this area that could make use of his book he replied, "Yes, there are more rockhounds in Southern California than anywhere else in the U.S."

Fay has also written a book prior to "Rockhound's Manual" titled "Physical Geography" published by Doubelday. And he has occasionally written articles for Science Digest.

Israeli Star To Perform

As a highlight of its month-long celebration of Israel's 25th birthday, Hillel, the Jewish Students' Union at Valley College, will feature Mike Burstyn, the multi-talented American who became one of Israel's top stars.

Burstyn has headlined night clubs from Jerusalem to Los Angeles and has hosted and appeared with Jose Feliciano during the latter's Israeli concert tour.

He will perform next Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Monarch Hall for the nominal charge of 50 cents per person. For further information contact Hillel at 786-6310.
